Shapes and sound — by day, and when you cannot see

The same rules said twice: once for the dark, once for the daylight, once for the fog.

Day shapes

	A ball R30 at anchor
	A cone R25(e) sail and engine
	Two cones R26(b) fishing — either kind
	A cylinder R28 draught
	Two balls R27(a) not under command
	Ball, diamond, ball R27(b) restricted

No shape at all: power-driven; under sail; pilot vessel.

Sound signals in restricted visibility

A short blast is about one second; a prolonged blast is four to six. The bars are drawn to that scale.

	One prolonged blast under way and making way through the water	R35(a)
	Two prolonged blasts under way but stopped in the water	R35(b)
	One prolonged and two short a sailing vessel is in the Rule 35(c) list	R35(c)
	One prolonged and two short not under command	R35(c)
	One prolonged and two short restricted in her ability to manoeuvre	R35(c)
	One prolonged and two short constrained by her draught	R35(c)
	One prolonged and two short engaged in fishing	R35(c)
	One prolonged and two short engaged in fishing	R35(c)
	One prolonged and two short towing or pushing	R35(c)
	One prolonged and three short a manned vessel being towed, right after her tug	R35(e)
	One prolonged, and then four short a pilot vessel on duty adds four short to her ordinary signal	R35(a) + R35(j)
	Five seconds of rapid ringing on the bell at anchor	R35(g)
	The bell forward, then the gong aft, five seconds each at anchor and 100 m or more	R35(g)
	Three strokes, the rapid ringing, and three strokes again aground	R35(h)
